26. (Internal Use Only - CM) LIAISON I left word for Bill Richardson, of the staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Foreign Assistance Subcommittee, to suggest that the briefing on Iran which he had requested to receive at Headquarters on 17 November, and then had to postpone, could be rescheduled for 22 November or the afternoon of 23 November.

27. (Internal Use Only - CM) CONSTITUENT STAT
OL, called to describe the circumstances under which a Headquarters employee on 17 November had parked her disabled car across the exit of a driveway on Chain Bridge Road, then left it to get help, and came back to face the wrath of the angry householder who later communicated this wrath to the office of Representative Joseph Fisher (D., Va.). Clearly the matter was regrettable but understandable, and I agreed to advise Mr. Fisher's office of the circumstances.

✓ 28. (Internal Use Only - CM) LIAISON Sara Stone, of the Congressional Research Service, called with a request for information about the Japanese Red Army. I suggested that what material we might have could be classified and asked her for the name of the Congressman inquiring so that we might send the material directly to the Congressman. She said she would relay my request. A short while later Mike Hodin, in the office of Senator Daniel P. Moynihan (D., N. Y.), called and said that the request was his. He asked if we might have documents -- manifestos, proclamations, etc. -- put out by members of the Japanese Red Army themselves to describe and publicize their activities and asked us to furnish him with a copy. I said I would check on the request and get back to him.

29. (Internal Use Only - CM) BRIEFING After George Cary found that he was unable to reach Werner Brandt, of Chairman Tom Foley's (D., Wash.) House Agriculture Committee staff, I called the Committee Staff Director, Fowler West, to get discussion arrangements for the planned 22 November briefing of the Committee on the Soviet grain situation. West said that Chairman Foley was not returning to Washington until 23 November, and suggested rescheduling the briefing for a later date. I promptly agreed to this, and West said he would let me know early next week about an alternative date for the briefing.
